AND ZINC REPORT. Shortage of Cars Prevented Filling of Contracts.

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 17 .- Stronger competition in the purchase of zinc ore caused an advance of $1 per ton during the last week, as was pointed out a week ago as most probable on account of the ore being purchased close and shead for delivery. A shortage of cars, however, prevented the purchasing agents from leading all the ore purchased and there is more ore tought shead this week than last. There are few bins of ore unsold, though there are a number containing some ore. Now that the grain-shipping season is on, there is a continual hustling for cars on the part of the purchasing agents, and each week nearly all of them, are behind with their shipments.

The sharper compatition of the season is a season to the sharper compatition of the season. advance of $1 per ton during the last week,

The sharper competition of the week re-The sharper competition of the week re-ulted in zine ore being advanced to 339 per on, an equivalent of $36 for 50 per cent inc. The greater competition was for the holicest grades of ore, but the tendency at he end of the week was toward a general nerease in the price of all grades. It is not improbable that a spirited contest for he output next week will further advance he prices. As is usually the case on an the output next week will further advance the prices. As is usually the case on an avanacing market less attention is paid to the assay basis as a fixed method of purchasing ore and assay prices may be quoted as low as $M for ore assaying under 60 percent zinc, and some sales were made on a $\frac{1}{2}$ basis. The week's closing spelter market, quoted firm at $1.25, indicates a greater activity in the ore market, and those producers who are expecting the market to go to $10 next week may not be presuming a great deal.

There has been no change in the price of lead for several weeks, the price all week remaining at $15 per ton, delivered, at the local smelting works, or on board the cars. Not only was the zinc shipment depressed from lack of cars, but the lead buyers are also complaining, and the shipment shows a considerable shortage from the preceding week.

ment shows a considerable shortage from the preceding week.

During the corresponding week of last year the highest price paid for zinc was $2; per ton, $12 less than the past week, and lead sold at $46.50 per ton, $2.50 less. The zinc shipment was less than last week by $28 tons, but the lead shipment was greater by $21 tons. Owing to the lower ore values a year ago, last week's value was greater by $37 loz. JOHN A. BRUNER. C. C.
